A vehicle entered a courtyard at Citi's Tampa campus during lunch. A woman died at the scene. A security guard shot the suspected gunman, who later died in hospital.

A witness saw the car break through a fence. The account of the subsequent confrontation inside comes from investigators. That distinction matters in reconstructing who could see each part of the shooting. [1][2]

01 / EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

What happened and its threat significance

COUNTRY	WHERE	WHEN
United States	Sabal Park business campus, 3800 Citibank Center, Hillsborough County, Florida. [1][4]	4 November 2026. The first emergency calls reached dispatch at 12:11 EST (17:11 GMT). [1]

What happened

Chief Deputy Frank Losat described a rifle attack after a vehicle entered a courtyard. An armed guard confronted the gunman in the cafeteria. The sheriff's office is investigating the woman's death as a homicide. [1][2]

Threat significance

More than 3,200 people were on the campus, according to the sheriff's office. Workers fled to a neighbouring hotel while officers cleared several buildings. [1][2]

> EXECUTIVE JUDGEMENT
> The strongest evidence concerns the vehicle's arrival, the response and the two deaths. The public accounts leave open whom the gunman intended to harm and whether he knew the victim. [1][2][3]

02 / RECONSTRUCTION

What happened

David Dzien, a Citi employee returning from lunch, told AP that he saw a sedan breach a fence and then heard a noise he subsequently understood to be gunfire. His account places the vehicle at the perimeter. It does not identify who fired individual shots. [2]

Losat told reporters that the vehicle entered an outdoor eating area and that the gunman killed a woman before encountering the guard. The sheriff's written account locates the confrontation in the cafeteria. The exact position of the victim and the intervals between shots remain unresolved. [1][2]

03 / LOCATION

The campus east of Tampa

Both maps mark the business campus vicinity, approximately 27.977° N, 82.330° W. The official address and a mapped parking facility support this level of precision. The positions of the fence breach, victim and guard cannot be plotted reliably. [1][4][5]

Tampa Bay and the eastern metropolitan area. The marker locates the campus in Hillsborough County.

Sabal Park and surrounding roads. The marker applies to the campus as a whole. Basemap credits appear on each map.

04 / EVENT AND PUBLICATION TIMELINE

From the first calls to the homicide inquiry

TIME IN FLORIDA	EVENT AND EVIDENTIAL BASIS
12:11	Dispatch begins receiving reports of shots. The first marked unit arrives within a minute, according to HCSO. [1]
12:24	HCSO records transport of the suspect to Tampa General Hospital. [1]
13:12	Hospital pronouncement of the suspect’s death. The victim was pronounced dead at the scene. HCSO gives no time for the latter. [1]
15:57	Reuters publishes confirmation of the two deaths and Citi’s statement that it is coordinating with law enforcement. [3]
20:10	The sheriff’s written release provides dispatch and hospital times and requests video. This falls at 01:10 GMT on 5 November, after the selection window and before this edition. [1]

AP’s briefing account gives roughly two and a half hours for searches. HCSO’s written release gives two hours for clearance. Neither provides matching start and end points. The difference matters for reconstructing when individual buildings reopened. [1][2]

05 / EVIDENCE ASSESSMENT

What the public record can establish

The sheriff initially described the incident as apparently targeted. Later he characterised the gunman as intending wider harm. Both descriptions are official assessments. Neither identifies a target or supplies the underlying evidence for motive. [1][3]

Separate the woman who died from the suspect who died after the guard intervened. A total of two deaths cannot establish two attack victims. The public material reviewed includes no ballistic examination or shot-by-shot reconstruction. [1][2]

For a case record, link the sedan and fence observation to Dzien's interview, the cafeteria encounter to Losat's briefing, and the transport and pronouncement to release 26-185. Preserve the provenance of any later footage, including its clock offset and the observer's field of view. [1][2]

The agency's video appeal identifies a route for new evidence. No submitted recording, case exhibit identifier or judicial finding was available for this assessment. [1]
